TAX FREEZE

By Paul Giles

southend@yellowad.co.uk

COUNCIL tax, parking charges and leisure facility fees were frozen last Thursday.

The Southend Council budget will see the authority try to save £7.3 million by negotiating existing contracts, redesign services reorganise teams and streamline systems at Civic Hall, in Victoria Avenue.

The authority has also promised it will continue to deliver quality front line services.

Councillor Nigel Holdercroft, leader of the council, said financial decisions are becoming harder and harder to make, as the challenges of austerity measures bite ever deeper and the levels of government funding reduce.

He said: "We are constantly trying to balance the needs of the most vulnerable whilst doing everything we can to preserve essential services - where we have a growing demand.

"This is the ninth year running where we have had to deliver significant savings.

"Our latest budget means we have achieved a total of £79 million savings during those nine years - the equivalent of a 129.6 per cent council tax hike.

"We have been able to safeguard core front line services by continually reviewing and reassessing how these are delivered.

"Even now we have delivered a budget which does not decimate our core services and will have little adverse effect on our residents, but does include new investment in our priority areas which is only possible because of our good housekeeping skills."

Within the budget money has also been set aside for improvements to an Airport Business Park and regenerating Victoria Avenue.

Mr Holdercroft said: "We have achieved a developmental budget in austere times.

"In doing so we would also like to reassure residents the we have taken great care to maintain modest borrowing levels.

"These are just 1.8 per cent of our relevant income.

"To put it simply it is equivalent to a family on an income of £30,000 per annum having a mortgage of £45 per month."

Pearl's 40 years

● From front page different departments over the years. Pearl started volunteering on an elderly people's ward then went on to ferry patients to and from appointments using her own car. The grandmother said she spent a lot of time on the old stroke day care unit at the now defunct Balmoral Hospital.

Pearl said: "Back in those days, volunteers were very 'hands on' with the patients.

"I used to help wash them and set their hair."

When the Southend Hospital sites merged about 20 years ago, Pearl came up with an information desk to help people find their way around the new buildings. She has been helping out on that desk, in the old main entrance to the hospital, ever since. Her original idea led to two further desks, one in the tower block outpatients department and the other in the Cardigan Wing.

She was made an MBE in 2012 for services to the hospital and hospice and, in 2009, a badge of honour was given to her by the League of Mercy charity, as well as Hospital Honours, a special award given by Southend Hospital.

Jane O'Connell, hospital voluntary services manager, said: "She is old-school - always immaculately turned out, unfailingly courteous, kind and informative. She really cares about patients and their families. We are very lucky to have her."

Pearl added: "I love it, there is a need for it. While I'm able I will carry it. I find it very rewarding. Long may it last."

Village Green's line-up revealed

HEADLINE: Beth Orton

VILLAGE Green will be headlined by Beth Orton this year.

She joins the line-up with Eddi Reader, who topped the charts with her song Perfect.

Sean McLoughlin, Metal senior producer, who made the booking for the festival said he had chosen Beth Orton because she was diverse and would appeal to many ages.

Speaking about the award winning singer he said: "We have been asking her to come and do it for a few years.

"We chose her because artistically as a singer / song writer she has a real good pedigree.

"She has worked with lots of people from William Orbit, the Chemical Brothers and Beck, so she is quite diverse.

"Everyone I have spoken to just can't believe they are going to walk down the road from their house and see Beth Orton perform live at Chalkwell Park."

Other confirmed acts include Hip Hop duo Dan Le Sac vs Scroobius Pip.

Ska band The Slackers will bring their form of Jamaican Rock 'n' Roll from America.

SMOKERS in the Southend area are being offered free help to quit as part of National No Smoking Day.

Belfairs Pharmacy in Leigh is offering to help people who want to quit smoking and remain smoke-free.

Statistics show quitting is difficult, with 60 per cent of smokers saying they would find it hard to stop even just for one day.

But pharmacist Mohamed Sayyaz Haji at Belfairs said people using the structured support he provides are five times more likely to succeed than if they go it alone.

He said No Smoking Day on Wednesday (March 12) is a good opportunity to quit, but support and advice is available all year round at the Eastwood Road North pharmacy.

“By popping into the pharmacy we can discuss your individual needs, talk through the products available to support you and offer on-going encouragement and tailored advice to help you stop smoking for good.”

The pharmacist said smokers who managed to stay off the cigarettes see health benefits becoming apparent after just 24 hours. As the nicotine and carbon monoxide start to leave the body, oxygen levels return to normal, he explained. The lungs start to clear out mucus and other smoking debris and the quitter will have an improved sense of taste and smell.

Two and 12 weeks after giving up, exercise will become easier and breathing improves. From three months coughs, wheezing and breathing problems are reduced and by a year the risk of coronary heart disease is half that of a smoker.

Mr Haji said: “There’s no need for an appointment, people can simply walk into the pharmacy for a free private consultation. We also offer blood pressure and cholesterol checks which can be followed up to help chart improvement over time.”

For information or a consultation visit Belfairs Pharmacy, 327 Eastwood Road North, Leigh.

...and charity helps others breathe easier

CAMPAIGNERS Breathe Easy has donated five nebulisers for patients on Eleanor Hobbs ward at Southend Hospital.

The nebulisers will be used to give medication in the form of a mist inhaled into the lungs.

Breathe Easy Southend support people affected by lung problems, their family and carers.

Jan Morrison, secretary of the group, said: “We always listen to our members and we knew that the ward was in desperate need of these nebulisers.”

Penny Peniston, ward manager, said: “We are so grateful for this donation. It really will make a big difference to the way we treat some patients here on the ward.”

Classic cars for all to sea

A SERIES of classic car events will be coming to Southend seafront.

Owners of these icons of car design are gearing up for the first in a series of classic vehicle breakfast events – and there are just a few more places still available on Sunday, March 30.

Roger Petheram, committee member organising the London to Southend Vintage and Classic Car Run, said: “In the 1950s people used to come to the seaside in their cars with a picnic and this annual event is a great way to re-create those memories.”

Southend councillor for culture and tourism Derek Jarvis said classic vehicles were endlessly fascinating. He said: “They re-create a former era for those who remember them and are a real piece of history for those who don’t, so we feel sure they’ll become a special attraction in Southend and we’re grateful to our seafront traders for providing free breakfast for the drivers.”

The second event will be held on April 27, and the following will be held on July 13.

Anyone who would like to take up one of the remaining places is advised to register their classic car as soon as possible by contacting Lisa Ferne on 01702 215119 or alternatively by emailing lisaferne@southend.gov.uk

BLOOD: Jacqueline Totterdell, chief executive at Southend Hospital and Clare Panniker, chief executive of Basildon and Thurrock Hospitals

Hospitals announce blood service provider

SOUTHEND Hospital and Basildon Hospital have announced its preferred bidder for blood services in south Essex as Integrated Pathology Partnerships (IPP).

The trusts have been working together to explore how best to bring the two services together to provide 'sustainable', locally led hospital based pathology services across the south Essex area.

Last week the boards of both organisations agreed a full business case to form a joint venture with IPP, which will see them work to deliver the full range of laboratory services together.

Clinical staff will continue to interpret results and give all clinical advice at their respective NHS trusts.

Following this announcement, in accordance with European procurement law, a ten day standstill period has commenced, where the final stages of completion will take place and further details on the project will then be available.

In a joint statement Clare Panniker, chief executive of Basildon and Thurrock Hospitals and Jacqueline Totterdell, chief executive at Southend Hospital said they were delighted to have agreed the joint venture.

They said: "We believe this move will bring additional expertise, innovation and experience to the service and put it in the best possible position to bid for future contracts such as local community pathology services.

"We would reassure all interested parties that all clear and definite advantages to this project have been fully assessed to enable us to meet our overall objective of maintaining and securing a high quality and sustainable pathology service for our local population."

Stuart Quin, chief executive of IPP, said: "We are delighted to have been selected as the preferred bidder to provide pathology services in partnership with Southend University Hospital NHS Foundation Trust and Basildon and Thurrock University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust.

"We look forward to working with both trusts in the development and delivery of a high quality service for patients."

A COLLEGE is trying to boost the number of young people businesses are taking on by offering 'pre-apprenticeships'.

South Essex College is holding an event to explain the scheme, which leads to qualifications but has the option of transferring to an actual apprenticeship when one becomes available.

Maria Palmieri, head of apprenticeships at the college, said there is a need for pre-apprenticeships as they make students more ready for jobs and apprenticeships.

She said: "When an interview comes up, they have the best possible chance to succeed. We can then transfer them straight on to a full apprenticeship and they can hit the ground running."

"We want to match employers with students. The pre-apprenticeship helps us to get that right. The programme can be adapted for any industry, so there is a real opportunity for everyone starting a pre-apprenticeship at South Essex College."

"Whilst students are on the programme improving their skills, experts at [recruitment firm] Reed NCFE will be setting up interviews and lining up work placement opportunities. If nothing comes of that, then students will complete classroom-based elements of the apprenticeship whilst our team search high and low for an apprenticeship place that meets their career aspirations."

Find out more about pre-apprenticeships by visiting the open event on Thursday (March 6), at the Southend Campus, Luker Road, 5pm to 8pm.

Academy school rated 'good' in report by Ofsted

Arty or sporty, we need you!

"Essex Action" as heard on Southend Radio, produced in conjunction with the Volunteer Centre Southend (SAVS)

A FAMILY centre in Westcliff is looking for people who love to be busy.

The centre in London Road runs clubs for youngsters aged 8 to 15 and for vulnerable adults. Organisers need volunteers to help with things like homework, arts and crafts and sports.

Enthusiasm is the only qualification required and it really is a lot of fun, so if you would like to help out in your local community, then sign up.

Maybe you have skills you could share or perhaps you would like to gain some work experience with helping young people or vulnerable adults.

Get in touch by calling the Volunteer Centre Southend on 01702 356060.

Tackling domestic violence

ESSEX Police chief constable Stephen Kavanagh has made a commitment to offer better protection and support to victims of domestic abuse.

The force is taking part in a national campaign this week to raise awareness of domestic abuse issues and the response of the police and other agencies.

The chief constable said: "There has been some really positive work done so far."

"We are in the process of setting up joint teams with Essex County, Southend and Thurrock councils to share information and respond together to domestic abuse incidents."

"We will take a hard-line approach with offenders."

THE Westborough School has been given a 'good' rating by Ofsted.

The school in MacDonald Avenue, Westcliff, was the first primary school in Southend to become an academy in 2010.

Inspectors said there were many positives at the school, including the progress made by pupils, the standard of teaching and the leadership of headteacher, Jennifer Davies.

The head said she was delighted to be rated "good" in all four areas: the achievement of pupils, the quality of teaching, behaviour standards and the leadership and management.

She said: "We always believed we were a good school but to have that feeling validated by Ofsted really means a lot for us, especially as it recognises the outstanding commitment from parents, pupils, governors and staff."

Mrs Davies is now wants to go one better by getting the best possible rating of "outstanding" when the school is inspected again.

The Ofsted report, published last week, stated: "Teaching is consistently good and this means that pupils do well in class and in national tests."

Southend councillor for children and learning, James Courtenay said: "Their hard work and determination is improving the education of our children and has now been formally recognised."

Osteoporosis fracture risk scans

Osteoporosis is common in postmenopausal women and older men and hip fractures can prove fatal. Osteoporosis can be prevented if weak bones are detected early enough but scans for assessing risk of future osteoporotic fracture are not always readily available. However, you can now have a non-invasive scan for £22.

PROBLEM

felt roofs tend to blister become brittle and eventually crack, this will cause a slow breakdown allowing water ingress to damage roofing timbers before any problem is visibly detected within the home. Felt attracts moss & algae growth along with pooling water which will further degrade the roof surface.

High-Tech Roofing have proudly installed and guarantee over 7000 domestic flat roofing projects-every roof we install comes complete with a LIFETIME guarantee giving absolute peace of mind.

Working Under Licence

High-Tech offers every home owner a world leading flat roof system. A High-Tech roof is dimensionally stable, solar reflective and 100% resistant to moss & algae growth. The roof system is permanently fusion welded without the short life resins or glues. All exposed edge has a metal coated finish with a permanent weld creating a 100% storm resistant watertight flat roof. A High-Tech roof is maintenance free, can be walked on and guaranteed for life.

Deanes presses ahead with academy application

DEANES School, in Daws Heath Road, Thundersley, is pressing ahead with its application to become an academy.

Last week the schools adjudicator David Lennard Jones reversed Essex County Council's controversial decision to shut the school in 2016.

The Billericay School, which is making a joint application with the Daws Heath Road school for a multi-academy last Monday completed all the formalities it needs.

Castle Point MP Rebecca Harris (Con), who supported the school's fight to stay open is backing the academy bid and has approached both secretary of state Michael Gove and education minister Lord Nash in support.

SUPPORT: Rebecca Harris MP and Stephen Metcalfe MP with Deanes School backers.

Teenager robbed

A THIRTEEN-year-old boy was punched in the face and had £20 stolen in Sutton Road, at 5.45pm on Friday January 31.

Investigating officer DC Mark Sawyer explained the boy was walking along the road when he was approached by a woman who appeared to be drunk.

He said: "She suddenly grabbed the boy's hooded top, pulled it down over his face then punched him once in the face. She then grabbed the cash and some other items from his pocket."

"This was a particularly vicious assault that occurred at a busy time in the early evening. I would like to hear from anyone who can identify the woman."

The woman is described as being in her 30s or 40s, about 5ft 6in tall, of medium build and with dark brown shoulder-length hair. She was wearing a black padded jacket and blue jeans.

Anyone with information should contact DC Sawyer at Southend CID on 101 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Rubbish facility ban

RESIDENTS getting rid of rubbish in Southend can no longer use recycling centres provided by Essex County Council.

People from Southend will have to use one of the two recycling centres provided by the borough's authority. These facilities are located in Stock Road, Southend, and Leigh Marshes, Leigh.

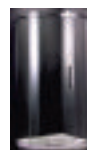

Residents from small areas of the Rochford area who previously accessed the Southend Stock Road recycling centre will no longer be permitted to use this facility.

Opinion and readers' letters

Behaviour must be punished

Eamon Mahon is right about Iain Duncan Smith's plans spelling misery for millions of OAPs, and the same applies to many other vulnerable people.

One resident of Prittlewell went for a reassessment of her eligibility for benefit by an unqualified ATOS operative and was given zero points. The resident had been receiving invalidity benefit for 23 years and it was only when her GP intervened that the payments she badly needed were restored.

When IDS is sounding off about 'benefit fraud' does he include when disabled people are cheated out of their rights?

I hope Mr Mahon is right and the Tories – or the 'nasty party' – will pay for their outrageous behaviour at the ballot box in 2015. But then, they were not actually elected last time...

We need police cooperation

I strongly believe in the need for European police cooperation, as criminals don't stop at our borders and neither should our efforts to bring them to justice.

But despite the real prospect of reform, many are still calling for the UK to pull out of the European Arrest Warrant and other EU police cooperation measures, despite senior British police stressing that these are vital in the fight against crime.

Thanks to the European Arrest Warrant hundreds of dangerous suspects have been returned to the UK to face British justice.

Withdrawing from EU police cooperation would be a gift to major criminals, who would find it easier to evade justice,

Council performance is atrocious

The performance of Castle Point Council with regards to John Burrows Hall is atrocious. In 2004, after a questionable series of surveys of the borough's halls, the council came up with a ridiculous figure of more than £500,000 for repairs required over a nine year period for the hall.

This amount was said to justify disposing the hall to a company named as Sovereign Leisure. When the council originally disposed of this valuable asset, they clearly neglected to carry out a "due diligence" appraisal of Sovereign Leisure and made no inspections during the period of occupation.

In the last two years the council has been dithering, the hall has further deteriorated. They have lost income from its non-use and they presumably have been paying the lost business rates. All in all a sorry state of affairs, which perhaps should receive some attention from the auditing authorities.

And what now is adding insult to injury? We have just witnessed the spectacle of Cllr Riley along with other Tory councillors parading themselves as being opposed to the selling of the hall to Hungry Horse. Isn't Cllr Riley a cabinet member of the council? Isn't it the council's cabinet which is making this proposal?

What sort of administration do we have at the council offices? Why doesn't the council just get on and restore the building to its original usage as an amenity for local use?.

Troubling elements about referendum

Let me state right at the beginning that I am for Scottish independence - among other reasons, because I know what it is to be a member of a nation, which plays the second fiddle to another ("ruling") one.

However, there are many troubling elements about the approaching referendum, and most of them lay squarely at Alex Salmond's feet.

The short version is that the process of possible separation seems totally unprepared, despite the fact, that it was supposedly being planned for several years.

He either does not know, or doesn't want to say what he plans.

And while George Osborne's claims, that Scotland will not be able to use the pound, is an utter nonsense (how could he prevent it?), more important is, why would Scotland want to keep it?

What with all the debt and lack of budgetary control - which is one of the biggest reasons they want to separate in the first place.

I certainly hope that he is not foolish enough to use the Dollar or the Euro either, as they are in an even deeper cesspool.

The same is true about the EU membership - what lunatic would want to get rid of one remote ruler and squanderer and immediately stick his head in the yoke of another, even more remote and less responsible one? Ditto for the Queen.

End the sale of foie-gras

I expect readers will be surprised to hear that something that would be illegal to produce in Britain is freely on sale across the country, and is very likely on sale near them right now.

That product is foie-gras. Anyone trying to produce it here would be liable to end up in court on animal cruelty charges, but nothing yet controls its importation into this country.

Foie-gras is the grossly enlarged liver of a duck or goose and is essentially a disease, marketed as a delicacy. Birds raised for this 'gourmet' cruelty are force-fed enormous quantities of food through a long metal pipe, often three times a day. This process of deliberate and painful overfeeding continues for up to a month by which time the birds' livers have swelled to ten times their normal size. Every year in France, around a million ducks die during this period of force-feeding.

You also have to ask yourself what is the point of sovereign welfare laws when something such as foie-gras can be imported freely into Britain? That is why we are asking the Government to get tough on animal cruelty by calling for an import ban.

Local people also have the power to end the sale of foie-gras by not visiting establishments which sell it.

To sign our petition online to support a ban visit www.viva.org.uk/foiegras

Charity begins at home

SO old George is going to write a blank cheque to bail out the Ukraine - more sack loads of cash for other countries rather than looking after the beleaguered folks back home.

It's bit like the war really when signs were taken down to confuse the enemy now it's us who are confused.

by LIZ WADE

IF YOU are looking for something different at a local theatre then check out the fantastic production of Viva la Drag! and the chance to see psychic medium, Tony Stockwell.

Described by show producer, Michael Taylor, as "the ultimate girls' night out – with added extras", Viva la Drag! will be at Broadway Theatre, Barking, on Saturday, March 15.

The lavish production, directed by Kylie Minogue's creative director, William Baker, promises a rollicking night of crossdressing comedy and musical theatre featuring songs composed by Boy George.

The plot of Viva la Drag! charts the rise from rags to the queens of drag of a close harmony group with a difference. The 'girl' group's razor-tongued manager, played by Miss Sheila Simmonds, navigates band splits and solo hits, against a backdrop of backstabbing, love and tears played for laughs by four of the UK's top drag artistes: Vicki Vivacious, Vanilla Lush, Portia De Fosse and Silver Summers.

It also guest stars Sam Buttery, finalist from the original series of BBC1's The Voice.

After appearing in The Voice, Sam went on to star in the 2012/13 production of the musical Taboo, playing the part of performance artist, fashion designer and club promoter Leigh Bowery in the musical, a role originally performed by writer and producer of Taboo, Boy George.

He then appeared in the feature film Child 44 with Gary Oldman and Tom Hardy before joining Viva la Drag!

Producer, Michael Taylor, says the production showcases Sam's amazing voice and his vocals and keen sense of humour are a perfect fit for the production.

He added: "It is an outrageous party night out to die for, packing in more hit songs than any other production."

"It's an evening of glitz, hits, dance and kitsch boasting a real musical pedigree."

"Sweet harmonies, costumes to die for, a score packed with more hits than you can bat a pair of oversize lashes at, thrilling cutting-edge variety and ripped male eye-candy make Viva la Drag! the party night out of the year."

The production, which comes direct from a critically acclaimed West End run, benefits from the musical direction of John Themis, songwriter of number one hits by the Sugarbabes, Emma Bunton and Kylie, and costume designer, Stevie Stewart, whose work features on Kylie's famed world tours.

Its vocals are also by Terry Ronald, arranger to Girls Aloud and Dannii Minogue, and its choreography is by Ashley Wallen, whose credits include Rent at the Duke of York's Theatre and Ghost the musical in the West End.

Moving on to spirits of another kind, top psychic medium, Tony Stockwell, will be appearing at Thameside Theatre, Grays, on Monday, March 17, for An Evening of Psychic Mediumship.

Tony, from Wickford, has become one of the country's most well known and respected mediums and has appeared in several of his own television series including Psychic Academy, Psychic Detective, Street Psychic and Psychic School, will be returning to the Grays theatre this month during a hectic year that sees him travelling across the country and even the globe.

Tony, said: "It's going to be another pretty manic year. Apart from all over the UK and Ireland, there are a number of dates in the USA, Australia, Canada and Switzerland, including a teaching event in New York."

Tony hopes that through his current work he will make others aware that there's something more than just our current lives, saying: "Whether through mental or physical mediumship, on TV or in small groups, if you can bless one person's life to absolutely believe beyond doubt that their mum, their dad, their son, or their daughter is going to be there waiting for them and it gives them comfort, then that's worth doing."

"My main motivation is and will always be the love of the work. If I didn't love it so much and if it wasn't such an intrinsic part of me, I couldn't do it. The early morning flights, the being away from home, the very erratic hours and shift patterns, the media criticism that often comes with the job are all things that are more than outweighed by the joy of actually working with spirits and the immense pleasure it brings me.

Recent legislative guidelines insist that any evening of mediumship should be billed 'for entertainment purposes' and Tony certainly offers this thanks to his natural wit, showmanship and Cockney charisma.

Ralph Fiennes as M. Gustave in The Grand Budapest Hotel

Wes on top form as stars check in

The Grand Budapest Hotel (15, 100 mins)

WHEN Wes Anderson is good, he's very good - dare I say it, brilliant - and when he's occasionally off-key, the Texan writer-director still puts other filmmakers in the shade.

The Grand Budapest Hotel is a tour-de-force of invention and creativity that leaves no narrative stone unturned in its quest for laughs and heartfelt emotion.

Anderson is in sparkling form, tracing the history of the titular establishment from 1932 to the present day through the eyes of two lovers, who become embroiled in a mad-cap crime caper involving a stolen painting.

It's a brilliantly bonkers ensemble comedy from a filmmaker who marries quirky production design with eccentric characters and wry humour, yet still manages to find a nub of humanity in every outlandish situation.

Anderson marshals an incredible cast including regular collaborators Owen Wilson, Jason Schwartzman and Bill Murray, plus he teases out an uproarious and energetic performance from Ralph Fiennes as the suave protagonist at the centre of the mystery. The British actor's comic timing is impeccable.

Nightmares conjured by his portrayals of Amon Goeth in Schindler's List or Voldemort in the Harry Potter saga are banished forever.

A neat framing device introduces Zero Moustafa (Tony Revolori), who secures a coveted position as lobby boy at one of eastern Europe's celebrated establishments, the Grand Budapest Hotel in the Republic of Zubrowka.

Zero works under legendary concierge Gustave H (Fiennes), who the lobby boy fondly remembers as "the most liberally perfumed man I've ever met".

Clients, especially older women, are putty in Gustave's well-manicured hands and he lavishes them with affection, including ageing matriarch Madame D (Tilda Swinton), Tom Wilkinson, Owen Wilson, Tony Revolori. Director: Wes Anderson.

When she perishes in suspicious circumstances and leaves a priceless Renaissance painting entitled Boy With Apple to Gustave in her will, grief-stricken relatives including Madame's greedy son Dmitri (Adrien Brody) plot the concierge's downfall.

The finger of suspicion for Madame D's demise points at Gustave and he goes on the run with wily police chief Henckels (Edward Norton) and Dmitri's sadistic henchman (Willem Dafoe) in hot pursuit.

With the continent changing at frightening speed, Gustave and accomplice Zero attempt to outwit their pursuers and prove the concierge's innocence, aided by a pretty baker's assistant called Agatha (Saoirse Ronan).

The Grand Budapest Hotel offers audiences a luxurious five-star stay inside Anderson's vision.

Every frame is beautifully crafted, set to a jaunty score by composer Alexandre Desplat.

If Fiennes is a revelation in a rare comedic role, supporting performances are equally memorable including Swinton's cranky grand dame and Jeff Goldblum's ill-fated lawyer.

Bookmarked into five chapters, the narrative twists and turns at delirious speed.

"The plot thickens, so they say. Why? Is it a soup metaphor?" wonders Gustave aloud as the truth about Madame D's death comes into focus - and we lap up every sublime soupy metaphor with gusto.

Liz at Large

Preserved in history

WHEN Arthur Charles Wilkin created his first Tiptree preserves during the reign of Queen Victoria he could never have envisaged that almost 130 years later the company's produce would be sold in more than 60 countries.

But that is exactly what has happened to the now famous Essex preserve which has continued to impress consumers, including royalty, since an Australian merchant bought every last pot of its first jam in 1885.

The story of producers, Wilkin & Sons, and its Tiptree preserves can be found in a lovely little museum in the village they were named after, alongside a wonderful tea room and shop.

The Tiptree Tea Room and Visitor Centre is located in the grounds of Wilkin & Sons' jam factory and its museum offers a glimpse of some of descendant John Wilkin's collection on everything to do with the company's history and that of the village and, of course, jam-making itself.

Press the strawberry button as you enter and hear a short audio introduction from John Wilkin or 'Mr John', as he was known, who collected the paraphernalia of preserve making and Essex village life you see in the museum.

For years he carefully stored away photographs, documents and redundant machines in corners of the preserve factory, before asking to display them in a private room in 1985 to mark the company's centenary celebrations.

His wife, Daphne, tirelessly recorded every item and created notices telling visitors about the history of the jam-making business and the village itself.

As you walk around the museum – now housed in the restored farm building where the early preserves were made – you can find out about the early days of the business, originally called the Britannia Fruit Preserving Company.

By 1901 the company had more than 8,000 customers and more than 600 acres of land planted with unusual fruits including gooseberries, cherries, damsons, quinces, crab apples, plums and loganberries, and by 1911 the then renamed Wilkin & Sons Limited was awarded a Royal Warrant from King George V.

During the First World War 8,000 boxes of its jam were sent to the front to boost morale and on the home front the crew of a Zeppelin airship threw equipment over the factory site in a bid to gain height before crashing.

The factory was almost struck by a force of another kind – a labour shortage during the Second World War – but managed to survive and flourish again, gaining a Royal Warrant from the Queen for the supply of jam and marmalade in 1954.

The Queen, who unveiled a plaque at the visitor centre in 2010 to mark 125 years of jam-making at Tiptree, went on to extend the Royal Warrant to cover the whole range of Tiptree products.

There's also a 10 minute video on the far side of the museum that gives you an idea of what actually goes into jam-making and why the Tiptree products are so special, and if you fancy a taste then take a seat in the adjoining tea room where you can enjoy everything from home-made scones with special Tiptree Strawberry Conserve and fresh cream to the almost-forgotten delight of a simple jam sandwich.

Alternatively, have a wander around the visitor centre's shop, where you can pick up jars and even miniature sample jars from Wilkin & Sons extensive selection of produce.

SILVER SERVICE AT THE PARK VIEW

LOCATED in the heart of Chalkwell Park, the Park View restaurant offers one of the most affordable silver-service menus in the area.

Food lovers will be hard pushed to find a three-course Sunday lunch with mains that include roasted aged topside of beef and gressingham duck at a price of just £12.50.

Those without a sweet-tooth or planning on skipping a starter can order the two-course menu at £10 and there is also a separate menu for the kids.

The lunches, which are available every Sunday from noon to 3pm, were re-introduced because of popular demand.

The silver-service dining experience includes pleasant waiting staff, a spacious setting and live music, creating a relaxed atmosphere within the restaurant's first class interior.

With a menu that includes starters of smoked salmon with mackerel and horeradish pate, carrot, ginger and coriander soup and bruschetta with tomato, avocado, red onion and prosciutto, the Park View team are bringing the tastes of summer to Southend.

The dessert menu is also very appetising with brioche bread and butter pudding with vanilla custard, mascarpone cheesecake with raspberries and passion fruit sauce and lemon and lime tart with cassis coulis and cream on offer.

The priority at the Park View is to showcase the quality of food and service on offer and to give as many members of the community the opportunity to appreciate the quality of food on offer.

An expanded menu can be enjoyed on Mothers Day on Sunday, March 30, from noon to 3pm at a price of £18.50.

The vision for Park View is to provide a central hub for the community so people come to celebrate the key events in their lives and to meet with friends to eat, drink, chat and relax.

The restaurant has a function room available that can be transformed to fit the celebration – be it a nightclub for a 30th birthday party, a wedding venue or professional space for business people.

In-house events planned for coming months include the regular 'Joker Comedy Club', which brings 28 years of heritage to the park, Mickie Driver's variety lunch, a Rod Stewart tribute band and a St George's Day variety show on Wednesday, April 23, from noon to 4pm.

For more information about Park View restaurant visit www.parkviewchalkwell.co.uk/ home or to make a reservation call 01702 483900.

The Bell & Chimes Restaurant has it all

Advertisement feature

A TRADITIONAL pub and restaurant has it all, from the very best in English cuisine with a hint of Mediterranean and Asian influences to an excellent selection of ales, lagers and wine.

The Bell & Chimes Restaurant, on Rettendon Common, boasts a warm, relaxed atmosphere making it the ideal venue for everyone from those looking for fine dining to others searching for a quality pub meal.

It is also the perfect setting for a range of special occasions including Mother's Day on Sunday, March 30, and anyone interested in making a reservation is urged to book early to avoid disappointment.

Throughout the year you can enjoy a drink and a bite to eat in The Bell's comfortable bar - open all day, every day - or a delicious meal in its 50-seater Chimes Restaurant, which is open every evening and for Sunday lunch. Its Mid-Week Menu, offering a choice of two-courses for £10.95 or three-courses for just £11.95, is packed with a wide range of choices, from whitebait and Italian pasta to smoked mackerel and soup of the day to start, followed by a fantastic range of main dishes such as home made pie of the day, home cooked ham with eggs, pan fried liver and bacon, baked seafood and home made lasagne. If you have room for more then there are a range of delicious sweets to enjoy from the trolley.

An a la carte menu is served in the restaurant on Saturday evenings which also has extensive choice including venison pate, Scottish smoked salmon, garlic mushrooms, and rosemary and garlic brie for starters, and succulent roast, pork tenderloin, lamb shank, chicken Portobello - succulent chicken breast smothered with Madeira and mushroom sauce - as well as grill and fish dishes for mains. All of this is complimented by a wide range of side orders and desserts including sweets from the trolley. More choice is available on Sunday as they serve a snack menu in the bar area and a comprehensive blackboard which always includes a choice of four roasts, their famous home made pie of the day and fresh fish, and other dishes. Its Sunday Lunch Menu costs £8.95 for a main meal, £10.75 for two-courses and £12.25 for three-courses. There is also a comprehensive Bar Menu offering a range of favourites from prawn cocktail, potato wedges and rack of ribs, to burger meals, scampi and ploughman's.

The Chimes Restaurant itself can also be hired for private functions, whether you want to enjoy a sit down meal for up to 50 people, or a buffet style celebration for up to 100. During the summer you can enjoy al fresco dining at the front of the premises, and every Thursday evening from 9pm there is a Quiz Night in the bar area. With so much to offer, including free WiFi, it is clear why so many people make The Bell & Chimes their first choice, whether they are looking for a quick lunch, a bite to eat after work, the perfect location for a social gathering or celebration, or the venue for a business lunch. Get quality food at The Plough and Sail SET just a few hundred yards away from the River Rouch is a beautiful country pub that is renowned for its quality food, warm welcome and great ales and beers.

The Plough and Sail, owned by the Oliver family, is a traditional pub that has a history dating back more than 300 years.

It has transformed itself over the years from a meeting place for the hard working crews of more than 30 oyster smacks that were based in Paglesham - a place that was known as the smuggling capital of the district - to somewhere for locals and visitors alike to gather and enjoy delicious food and outstanding service.

The pub, which boasts real log fires, has a variety of menus including a Main Menu that includes a range of starters such as Cornish crab cocktail, breaded squid rings, Scottish smoked salmon and sliced smoked duck breast with raspberry dressing, followed by a wide variety of main courses including double lamb chop, home-made lasagne and steak and kidney pie, and tiger prawns cooked in chilli and garlic butter.

A children's menu is available and those looking for something lighter will also find a range of omelettes and salads to choose from, as well as ploughman's lunches and sandwiches.

This is all on top of a selection of home-made sweets and a Specials Menu that is updated regularly and includes delicious dishes such as field mushrooms topped with caramelised onion and brie, and Moroccan style lamb kebab.

The Plough and Sail, set in beautiful Essex countryside, can also cater for a variety of functions including weddings, birthdays, anniversaries and funeral wakes. The beautiful beamed pub and pretty gardens provide a great backdrop to any event, for which staff can cater for up to 100 guests.

INSTRUCT US TODAY!!

LOCAL ESTATE AGENT GOES THAT EXTRA MILE!

Mike Hopkins, Partner of Brown & Brand Estate Agents has for the first time entered the Virgin Money London Marathon 2014.

His place was obtained via Havens Hospices, who took care of his late Mother-In-Law and Mike has pledged to raise at least £1,500 for this worthy charity. Mike commented "I am determined to do my best on the day, knowing that I have raised funds for Havens Hospice. They were so supportive to my family whilst they cared for my Mother-in Law, and nothing was ever too much trouble for them. It's the least I can do to show my support for Havens Hospices and hope as many people will support and sponsor me. It will make all the hours of training, blisters and effort worthwhile."

If you would like to support Mike and Havens Hospices why not log onto www.justgiving.com/Mike-Hopkins3 and make a donation.

Broadband puts Kingley Grange at top of new homes wish list

WITH more people choosing to occasionally work from home, house buyers are adding broadband connectivity to their new home wish list.

According to a recent survey by the Ofcom accredited broadband comparison calculator www.broadbandchoices.co.uk, a good broadband service is a more important selling point than off-street parking or closeness to a pub, with one in five people checking the broadband speed of potential new homes before they move.

Bellway Homes' range of properties at Kingley Grange in Rayleigh, has purchasers able to take advantage of super-fast fibre optic broadband available from a number of providers.

Currently available at Kingley Grange are a range of three and five bedroom houses set around a central 'village green'. Each home is well thought out combining generous living space, built-in storage and a high quality specification that includes fitted kitchens equipped with integrated appliances and stylish white bathroom suites.

All the homes have their own private rear garden and ample dedicated parking.

Paul Timson, sales manager at Bellway Homes Essex said: "Working from home is a noticeably popular trend, so we recognise that the design of a new house needs to accommodate people's flexible working lives. Purchasers at Kingley Grange will be extremely well connected, able to subscribe to super-fast broadband for home working but close to the train station for their regular commute."

Homes at Kingley Grange are especially attractive for New Year purchasers with Bellway's range of great special offers available to assist buyers. Anyone reserving a home before the end of March will receive a host of added extras including stamp duty paid, £1,000 towards moving costs and £500 toward legal fees.

The Warwick house type, priced from £479,995 is a spacious five bedroom house designed across three floors. The detached property provides a large living room with French doors to the rear garden, a formal dining room and a fantastic kitchen/family room with separate utility area, all beautifully designed to create a delightful standard of living. The kitchen comes complete with an integrated double oven with gas hob and hood and integrated fridge/freezer and dishwasher.

Accommodation also includes a master bedroom and second double bedroom, family bathroom and a single bedroom which can also be used as a home office. The master bedroom benefits from an en suite bath and shower room with white sanitary ware, chrome fittings and ceramic tiles.

On the second floor there are two further double bedrooms and an additional bathroom.

Purchasers at Kingley Grange can benefit from Bellway's Part Exchange scheme or the Express Mover package whereby Bellway works with a local agent to market your existing home and find a buyer as quickly as possible, or the nationwide Help to Buy scheme. All are subject to terms and conditions.

Prices for properties currently available at Kingley Grange start from £289,995 for a three-bedroom house, and from £479,995 for a five-bedroom house. For further sales information please contact Bellway Homes on 01268 785599 or visit www.bellway.co.uk or email: essex.sales@bellway.co.uk.

THE trend for SUV-style motoring with all the advantages of a hatchback is driving forward some excellent designs. Vehicles like the Skoda Yeti and Nissan Juke have proved the point without question and there is now a new kid on the block that takes the game a step further.

The Chevrolet Trax is available in three engine options with the choice of all-wheel-drive or front-wheel-drive models.

Aimed at the family motorist who wants to put a trendy new spin on everyday motoring, the Trax is a breath of fresh air because it offers a lot for a very reasonable price.

It comes in two trim levels and features a high driving position with plenty of room for five and their luggage.

As a General Motors product it is hardly surprising that it has a Vauxhall relative in the UK and that is the Mokka, but the Trax has a distinctively different look featuring the famous Chevy family grille.

The frontal treatment imparts an almost funky look and this combined with its tall stance can generate admiring glances.

The engine range for this Chevy includes a 1.4-litre turbocharged petrol, a 1.6-litre petrol plus a 1.7-litre turbodiesel.

Idrove the most economical option, the 1.7 turbo diesel in front-wheel-drive form, equipped with a six-speed manual gearbox. This gives a combined mpg figure of 62.7 which is excellent for a vehicle of this type. A CO2 emissions figure of 120g/km is also well within expectations.

The model is exceptionally well equipped for its price of £18,945 and the list of goodies even extends to a rear socket to plug in a laptop or other devices. This is really an Chevy metal!

RUGGED: The Chevrolet Trax 1.7 VCDi LT is one tough SUV

FAST FACTS

Price: £18,945

urban SUV. If you want all-wheel-drive it will cost around £1,500 extra, but this version of the Trax gets along well without it. The more upmarket LT trim has a colour touch screen, 18-inch alloys, parking camera and more.

On the road the Trax is competent enough and corners well for a tallish vehicle. But the ride was too hard for my taste, although never it fell short of acceptable.

In 1935, Chevrolet invented the SUV with the introduction of the Carryall Suburban. At the time, few people would have guessed that the Chevrolet Suburban would eventually hold the record for being the longest-running vehicle nameplate in the world.

Today, some 78 years later, Chevrolet is back in the field again with the Trax being its first entry to the small SUV segment.

PEUGEOT'S FANTASTIC OFFERS SUPPORT JANUARY NEW CARS SALES AND ORDERS

Peugeot Dealers have made an excellent start to 2014, and with a range of value-for-money retail offers running through this quarter, that success is expected to continue.

Using Peugeot Passport personal lease, the popular 107 city car in Access trim is available for an amazing £139 per month. That includes a £355 deposit contribution and an initial payment of only £139!

Buyers can also drive away a new Peugeot 208 Access supermini for £155. That includes a £750 deposit contribution and an initial payment of just £155.

Peugeot's latest new model, the critically acclaimed New 308, has proved hugely popular with retail customers during January. Showcasing a stunning and contemporary design inside and out, it's packed with desirable comfort and convenience features and available from only £14,495.

For customers who want the simplicity of a single monthly motoring cost, Peugeot's innovative and unique Just Add Fuel™ (JAF) scheme continues to prove extremely popular with buyers. In January it accounted for a quarter of all retail sales. JAF is available on 107, 208, 2008 and New 308, includes three years' comprehensive insurance and is priced from only £135 per month.

Peugeot's Spring offers echo the current 'New Peugeot, Still Affordable' advertising campaign, which January's registration figures prove is really hitting home with new car buyers.

Peugeot's performance in the retail sector stood at 3,553 units, which is a rise of 22.4% and the fourth largest increase of any volume automotive brand. New retail orders taken in January also were exceptionally strong, up more than 30% on last year.

Neil Moscrop, Director of Sales, Peugeot UK, commented: "In a retail market that is up 16% and an overall market that's up just under 8%, our result is very impressive and we're delighted by it."

Leading the Peugeot sales offensive is the brand's latest new cars, including the critically acclaimed 2008.

Moscrop continued: "On New 308 we're looking to do 16,000 units this year and we're ahead of that already in January, including more than doubling our retail objective."

He added: "Our strategy for retail sales is very simple. We have a very competitive list price, one that's lower than the sector average for each of our models. We also have a higher specification than the sector average and we try to be transparent in the way we treat our customers."

For more information on all of PEUGEOT's spring offers and Just Add Fuel, visit your nearest Toomey Peugeot retailer located at Southend Motor Village Cherry Orchard Way and Basildon Motor Village Service House, West Mayne, or simply go to www.toomey.uk.com/peugeot.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

OWN GOAL RUINS DAY FOR BLUES

Southend United

Southend United 1
Wycombe Wanderers 1

By Brian Jeeves at Roots Hall

SOUTHEND United produced a decent performance against lowly Wycombe Wanderers but were denied three priceless points after a bizarre own goal from keeper Daniel Bentley.

Blues went into the game without a win in eight, but despite the frustrating run of results, manager Phil Brown used his programme notes to convey his belief that it was only a matter of time before Southend returned to winning ways.

Brown had also been busy in the loan market, bringing in Sunderland youngster John Egan to cover the troublesome defensive area.

Meanwhile, Wanderers arrived at Roots Hall off the back of impressive victories over Chesterfield and Exeter City but still precariously placed just above the relegation zone.

There was a somewhat subdued atmosphere around the stadium as the teams coughed, sputtered and generally displayed an untidiness in their play during the opening minutes.

Southend were first to threaten. Barry Corr harassed the visitors' backline and Kevan Hurst reacted first to volley just over the bar, soon after Hurst was causing problems again. This time the Blues winger forced Wycombe keeper Matt Ingram to fist clear his dangerous centre under pressure from Corr.

Blues were generally in charge of proceedings, but Wanderers' Steven Craig should have done better, snatching at a chance and firing well wide after a melee around the penalty area. That aside, it was Southend who continued to press and they were starting to look something like the side who were challenging at the summit only a few games ago.

Anthony Straker headed disappointingly into Ingram's gloves from Hurst's pinpoint centre, then the Wycombe keeper made a terrific save to rebuff Ryan Leonard's low drive after the Blues midfielder had surged forward from Daniel Bentley's precise throw out.

Minutes later, Corr was again unlucky, this time the big Irishman was unable to direct Straker's centre beyond Ingram.

Wycombe made a brief foray into Southend territory, and almost snatched a shock lead as Bentley was forced to palm away Anthony Stewart's thumping header from Max Kretschmar's corner. But as the half drew to a close, it was Southend who believed they'd broken the deadlock. Corr rose to head Coker's free-kick beyond a stranded Ingram, only to see the assistants' flag cut short the celebrations.

The second period saw the teams exchange early opportunities. Ingram punched clear as Corr lurked, while Southend skipper John White had to be alert, heading clear Sam Wood's troublesome dead ball.

But once again, it was the Blues who settled the quicker. Straker was unable to direct his header past Ingram following Hurst's trickery, then the former Crystal Palace man was frustrated again by Ingram's agility.

But just after the hour, Southend's dominance paid off, and it was no real surprise who delivered the all-important finish. Barry Corr had been a thorn in Wycombe's side all afternoon. He directed Hurst's corner beyond Ingram and into the net, much to the relief of the home crowd.

Buoyed by their breakthrough, Southend went in search of a second. Ingram once again was forced to thump away after Coker had delivered, then Michael Timlin wasn't far away with a delicate chip from outside the box.

However, despite the home sides' dominance, there was a cloud of doubt hanging over Roots Hall, after the Blues had failed to capitalise, there was a frustratingly inevitability about what would come next. Wycombe had rarely threatened but when substitute Paris Cowan-Hall thumped a rasping effort off the cross bar, Blues players and supporters could only look on in disbelief as the ball rebounded off the extended Daniel Bentley and agonisingly back into the net.

Wanderers could scarcely believe it, lifted by their stroke of fortune, they pushed forward in search of a winner. Cowan-Hall and Jo Kuffour combined well down the right but nobody was on hand to benefit from their graft, then Kuffour found former Blues loanee Dean Morgan, but Bentley was alive to the situation, turning his effort away.

Soon after, Morgan went even closer, his thundering effort beat Bentley but came back off the outside of the post.

Southend created a couple of late opportunities, but both Jack Payne and Ryan Leonard were wayward.

Blues boss Phil Brown was a frustrated man at full time, believing only one side wanted all three points.

He said: "I spoke to the fourth official about 30 minutes in because of the time they were taking over everything."

And he added: "We upped the ante at the start of the second-half and got the goal to take the lead which was absolutely deserved. But there wasn't enough time between our goal and theirs for us to stamp our authority."

When asked about the visitors' equaliser, Brown said: "Daniel Bentley is despondent in the changing room but there was nothing he could do."

"It does really sum up our luck at the moment but we've just got to work hard to get through this spell."

Southend United will look to end their wretched run of Sky Bet League Two results next Saturday when they visit the Globe Arena to take on Morecambe, kick-off 3pm.

Southend United: Bentley, White, Phillips, Egan, Coker, Atkinson (Payne 80), Leonard, Timlin, Hurst, Corr, Straker (Barnard 86). Subs not used: Laird, Eastwood, Clifford, Chambers, Gomis.

Wycombe Wanderers: Ingram, McCoy, Stewart, Johnson, Wood, Arnold (Cowan-Hall 65), Bloomfield, Scowen, Kretschmar, McClure (Kuffour 77), Craig (Morgan 65). Subs not used: Pierre, Horlock, Jeffrey, Kewley-Graham.

Supersonic Concord

Non-League round up by Brian Jeeves
ONCE again, there were mixed fortunes for the regions Skril Conference South Clubs, but Concord Rangers showed the way with success on their travels.

A goal in each half from Steve Cawley and Sam Collins helped the Beach Boys to an impressive 2-0 win at Whitehawk, lifting them into 11th place in the table.

However, it wasn't such good news for Chelmsford City. Despite producing a decent performance, goals in the first and last minute from McCallum and Dundas condemned the Claretts to a 2-0 defeat at Sutton United, City remain in 15th.

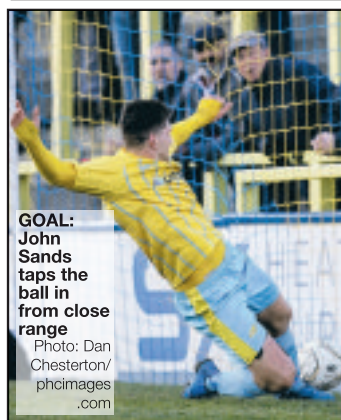

In the Ryman Premier League there was a big derby at Bridge Avenue where goals from Nouble and Carlos secured a 2-1 triumph for Grays Athletic over AFC Hornchurch. Billy Coyne grabbed a consolation for the hosts.

Billerica Town won 2-0 at Kingstonian, Josh Ekin and Ryan Scott with the all-important goals for the Blues, and Canvey Island thrilled a crowd of 373 at the Prospects Stadium by beating Carshalton Athletic 3-2. Jay Curran (2) and John Sands found the net for the Gulls, with Lewis Taylor and Jordan Wilson replying for Athletic who also had both Paris Hamilton-Downes and Matthew Hales sent-off.

In the Ryman North, a goal in each half from Ryan Blackman and Piers Wixon (penalty) secured a 2-0 win for Tilbury over Soham Town Rangers. Aveley crashed 3-0 at home to Witham Town, while Romford were held to a goalless draw by 10-man Maldon & Tipster. Spillane the man seeing red for the visitors.

Only three games were played in the Essex Senior League. Great Wakering Rovers consolidated their position at the top of the table with a hard fought 2-1 victory over Haringey Borough at Burroughs Park. John Bradley fired Rovers ahead and Joe Skeels doubled the advantage after the break. Dean Fenton pulled one back late on for Borough but Rovers held firm.

A terrific free-kick from Jorge Miguel Sambu fifteen minutes from time secured a 1-0 win for London APSA at Sporting Bengal United, while Bonsmir Hoxhaj hit a last minute goal at Cricklefield to snatch a 1-1 draw for Ilford, this after Matt Tacey had struck an early goal for visitors Clapton.

Canvey Island 3 Carshalton Athletic 2
by Matthew Stanton

CANVEY'S good form continued with a victory over relegation battlers Carshalton Athletic in an ill-disciplined match at the Prospects Stadium.

The Gulls took all three points in Saturday's clash, which included three penalties and two red cards.

Canvey made it seven matches unbeaten with the win over the struggling Ryman Premier League visitors.

The home side began well and were awarded a penalty after three minutes when Jay Curran's cross struck the hand of a Carshalton defender.

Curran stepped up and smashed his kick straight down the middle past Michael White.

Chance after chance was missed by the Gulls and Carshalton equalised against the run of play.

Left back Ashley Dumas was penalised for a push in the area before Lewis Taylor drilled his penalty into the bottom corner of the net.

Canvey striker Jason Hallett had the best chance of the first half when put through one on one with White, however, the keeper's faint touch steered Hallett's shot wide.

On 59 minutes, winger Harrison Chatting broke down the left and his cross to the near post seemed to be covered by White.

However, the keeper got his positioning wrong and Sands was on hand to tap the ball in the net. Sands has now scored 11 goals in 11 games.

Less than 10 minutes later, Canvey conceded the lead. Paris Hamilton-Downes squared the ball across to Jordan Wilson who had an empty net.

The game changed with three minutes left when Hamilton-Downes booted the ball out of play after the referee had blown his whistle. A second yellow was shown before Hamilton-Downes was given his marching orders.

Ill tempers continued and Canvey sub

Scott Kinch was brought down in the penalty area in injury time. Curran once again scored from the spot.

Carshalton were down to nine men after Matthew Hales was shown a red card for a foul on Rio Bryan Edwards.

Canvey Island: Josh Vickers, Michael Alaile (63), Ashley Dumas (88), Matt Game, Rio Bryan-Edwards, Mike Jones, Jay Curran, Sheldon Sellers, Jason Hallett, John Sands, Harrison Chatting (74). Subs: Callum Webb (74), Scott Kinch (63), Tom Strickland (88), James Haves, Gines Guzman Rosique.

Carshalton Athletic: Michael White, Bobby Price, Paris Hamilton-Downes, Matthew Hales, Tony Sinclair, Charlie McCarthy, Lewis Taylor (69), Marlon Patterson, Billy Dunn (88), Jason Henry, Reece Hall (69). Subs: Tommy Bradford, Jordan Wilson (69), Owen Price (88), Kingsley Aikhionbare, Jason Goodchild (69).
